Dear Barbara,

It was just marvelous to meet you. You were every bit as charming, bright, and humorous in person as you came across in your book. Of course, those of us who sat with you at lunch had a special treat; but then we were even more delighted when you took a room without a podium and microphone and made magic.

Our day included a tour of the Diplomatic Rooms at the State Department, a turn through the Sculpture Gardens at the National Gallery of Art, and our Hillwood segment. Your contribution provided a personal touch. It added extra sparkle and made for a day no one could duplicate. Two of our guests already had your book, and now the rest are eager to order it. We will proudly continue increasing your fan base by our word-of-mouth and hope you will again on some future date repeat your tour d'force presentation for another group of Diversions members.

Thanks again.

Fondly,
Senny Shapiro
